

Up until the 19th century, Buschrodt formed part of the parish of Wahl. However, by 1570, the locality already had its own chapel, dedicated to Saint Lawrence. The parish of Buschrodt was established in 1837. In 1846, the Diekirch architect Pierre Biver (1823-1871), drew up the plans for a church, though it was only constructed in 1854. In 1877, Nicolas Adames, the first Bishop of Luxembourg, consecrated the church, which was dedicated to Saint Denis. By the middle of the 20th century, the vaulting had become dilapidated and was replaced by a ceiling of wooden beams. At the same time the wall paintings were removed. The interior decoration dates to the second half of the 19th and the beginning of the 20th century.

Statue of Saint Denis,
the church's patron.
He suffered martyrdom by decapitation.

Stained glass windows from the Linster and Schmit workshop, 1895. They represent the Apostles Peter with a key and Paul with a sword.

Statue of Saint Albinus,

His feast day is celebrated on the first Sunday in March as the patron saint of the hearth and home.

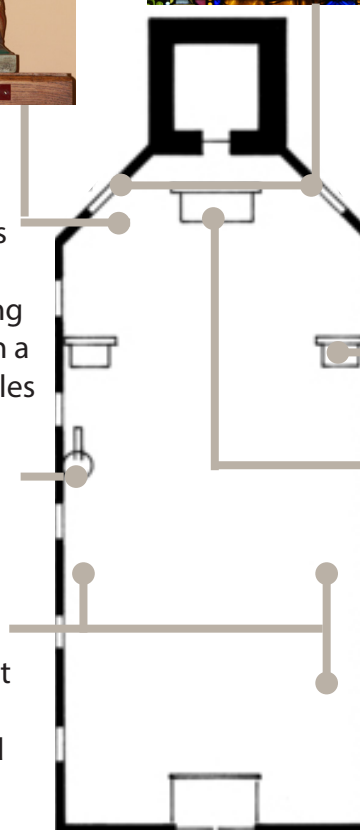

The Pulpit
with depictions of the Evangelists surrounding Christ based on a design by Charles Arendt.

Baroque statues
They represent SS Roch, Lawrence, and Lucia.

Main altar in historicist style.
Above, a painting depicting the Virgin Mary with the Holy Trinity.

Text: Alex Langini
Photos: Laure Simon,
Jean Ferber
Plan: Stiftung Forschungsstelle Glasmalerei
ErwuesseBildung 2018